DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 82-86 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 82 recites the limitation "the emulation device" in line 7. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim 86 recites the limitation "said housing" in line 6. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claim 86 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Lau et al (US 5,790,423).

Lau discloses a digital cassette emulation device (see Fig. 2) for insertion into a standard tape player having a plurality of user controls and a cassette driving mechanism including a rotatable capstan (159), the emulation device comprising: a solid state storage device; an interface, a processor, a linking member being driven by the capstan; and a sensor connector to the processor for monitoring the motion of at least one of the linking member and the capstan (see col. 7, lines 3-62 and claim 10).

4. Claims 82-85 would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, set forth in this Office action.

5. Claims 43-81 are allowed over prior art of record.

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Narita, Hirata, Cantone, Nishimura et al, Curtis, McPherson et al and Chawla et al are made of record here as pertinent art to the claimed invention. The cited references disclose using various sensor means for signals control in a cassette.
